Invitation From President, Michael Anton

Good Day!

I am looking forward to having you join us for the 108th Annual Wisconsin PTA Convention and Business Meeting; this year it will be held at the Radisson Milwaukee West in Wauwatosa. It was a great convention last year in a school setting and going back to basics, but I'm excited about this convention inasmuch as we're pulling out all the stops and we have listened to your input beginning early in the process. I think we have nailed it!

We're presenting new workshops, 16 to choose from - 4 sessions, with 4 workshops each. There's no way around it, more than one person from your unit needs to attend to take in all we're offering this year. We have some great keynote speakers and special guests listed on the left of this page. I think you will all agree, it's our best line up in years!

I'm letting you know now, that this is a full two day convention and the vendors are back! Plan to visit with them on Friday evening, and share dessert with some of them on Friday afternoon at lunch!

We've brought back the Reflections luncheon for all of the delegates, winners and families. You will be able see the amazing talent of these students as they tell their story! We also welcome LeRoy Butler, former Green Bay Packer as the speaker at this celebration. You don't want to miss seeing him.

As always, we'll conduct the business of Wisconsin PTA, this year reviewing a new resolution and the election of the 2017-19 President-Elect, Vice President, Secretary and Treasurer.

Have I convinced you yet? Then how about this - early bird pricing is only $120.00 inclusive.

Don't miss this opportunity for fun, a chance to meet new friends, celebrate accomplishments and enjoy a few more surprises along the way!

Voting delegates must provide their credentials and the unit's quotas are always filled on a first come first served basis.

Send in your registrations today!

Michael R. Anton

Convention Workshops

The 108th Wisconsin PTA offers a special Advocacy Track in this year's workshops. All of the "01" (101, 201, 301 and 401) workshops are part of the track to train and strengthen PTA leaders to be a voice for all children. This track is available due to a grant Wisconsin PTA received from National PTA. This track will lay the foundation for making local units, councils, regions and Wisconsin PTA the child advocacy leader once again!

The Advocacy Track will better qualify you to work with Wisconsin PTA to:

- Educate members and the community about issues related to College and Career Readiness
- Train leaders and members on advocacy skills essential to a successful issue campaign & to mobilize members
- Educate all levels of policymakers and coalition partners
- Engage the media

101 Grassroots Advocacy*

Robin Anderson, WI PTA

Advocacy can mean many things. This powerful discussion will help you understand the rich advocacy history of National PTA, the specific niche of grassroots advocacy National PTA holds in comparison to other service-minded organizations and the process for turning a problem into a grassroots issue campaign. You'll learn how to be a powerful voice for all children by being a strong PTA advocate.

102 Man Up PTA Membership

Justin Raber, National PTA

Male engagement in children's lives is important to build children's academic and social success. Participants will discover ways to encourage and increase PTA male membership. Learn about the PTA MORE (Men Organized to Raise Engagement) Alliance and how you can address male engagement barriers in your home, school, and community.

103 Preventing an Ailing PTA Epidemic

Deb Fritz, National PTA

Learn about the ways in which any local unit can handle the struggles of volunteer overload, inability to promote the great work that they are doing, and the overwhelming emotional toll it has on its leaders.

104 Junior Achievement Programming for All Students K-GED

Kristin Thrall, Junior Achievement

You'll be going through a small piece of what students get to experience in JA programming. Presentation of fun activities available in classroom programs. Volunteers visit schools and present this material as requested. Materials are designed to teach Financial Literacy, Work Readiness and Entrepreneurship to individual learners at their grade level. This workshop will teach, among other things, wants v. needs, savings and budgeting, how citizens benefit from community taxes and how money moves in our community.

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world."

Nelson Mandela

*Advocacy Track Workshops offer limited seating.
Delegates will be scheduled for these on a first come, first served basis.

Workshops (continued)

- 201 Meeting With Decision Makers
Roxanne Rhinehart, Wisconsin and National PTA
Meeting with Decision Makers can be intimidating. This workshop will help you learn how to effectively meet with decision makers by learning and practicing key skills that help you prepare and facilitate these meetings. You'll learn the importance of selecting the right tone for an action, the power component of an action, and the four steps to a successful meeting.
- 202 Raising Your Voice for Special Needs
Justin Raber, National PTA
In this brand new workshop, participants will explore ways to advocate within the education system and local, state and federal government officials on behalf of special needs students. Participants will consider diverse advocacy tools that take into account key federal policies in addition to local and state challenges.
- 203 Dyslexia Workshop
Dana Kay Brenner, CALT, DCT, QIT
“Help! My child can't read! Will any phonics program help? Do schools help with it? This presentation will cover what dyslexia is, how to identify it, and what to do about it. Identify the signs early to help your child get the help they need.
- 204 Mix It Up
Erica Cleven, Mix it Up Cooking Classes
Roll up your sleeves and prepare to get your hands dirty in this fun workshop with Erica Cleven, registered Dietitian Nutritionist and founder of Mix It Up cooking classes. We'll bring the recipes and the food, and you get to make (and eat!) some tasty, healthy, kid-friendly snacks that the whole family will enjoy.
- 301 A Parent's Role in ESSA Implementation ***
Melisa Yeoman, National PTA
Parents have questions about the Every Student Succeeds Act (ESSA). This new law governing K-12 education acknowledges the critical role parents and other stakeholders play in student success and school improvement efforts by requiring that they are involved and consulted in the development of new education plans and the implementation of the law. As a PTA leader, learn what ESSA means for your child, your child's school and how to get involved by learning about ESSA and all of the valuable resources PTA has to offer.
- 302 Opening Books Opening Minds Courtney Pelot, Miss Wisconsin
Focus on the importance of reading each and every day, with a special emphasis on children. Discussing the importance and ways parents can get involved by reading daily with their children. There will be emphasis on the importance of children engaging in reading themselves by choosing their own books, taking trips to the local and school library to select books and setting their own reading goals, such as taking part in the 20 minute challenge.

303 Fun Healthy Kid Food!

Jose Melendez

A fun-filled, hands-on workshop for parents looking to find the perfect mix of kid-friendly, tasty and healthy snacks, meals and in-betweens. You'll have the opportunity to not only see preparations, but try them and see if they truly are Mmm-Mmm Good!

304 Understanding and Supporting Children in School Who Have Been Poisoned by Lead

Kristi Tennis and Reghan Walsh, WI Dept. of Health Services

Children who are exposed to lead at an early age, especially during critical periods in brain development, are more likely to struggle with language, hearing, attention reading and other critical skills for school success. They're more likely to exhibit antisocial behavior, aggression, and hyperactivity as they age. Their learning ability can be impaired, causing problems in the classroom, failing standardized tests and being suspended from school. Understand the implications of exposure to lead on a child's brain; Become aware of the childhood lead poisoning prevalence in Wisconsin; and Discover actions you can take to help students.

401 Improving Your PTA Presence Using Social Media*

Ellen Chicka, WI PTA

Learn about today's social media platforms and their potential and power to increase PTA awareness and exposure.

402 Fundraising for High School PTAs Through Online Test Prep

Jim Giovanni, ACT Success - Online Test Prep

PTA fundraising at the high school level is often relegated to car washes and chocolate sales. ACT Success is offering all high schools the opportunity to conduct a financially successful fundraiser while raising academic skills and ACT scores! Through its affordable and effective Online Test Prep program, ACT Success will donate $25 from each course sold directly back to your school's PTA. Schools can easily raise thousands of dollars simply by partnering with ACT Success!

403 Communications Essentials Using NPTA Communications Tools to Inform Local Leaders

Justin Raber, National PTA

Learn how to repurpose National PTA newsletters, social media, press releases, Our Children articles and more to enhance your local communication plans to inform and provide information to your members. Our content can be used locally to deliver strong and compelling messages to your members and make delivery much easier.

404 Upside of Conflict

Deb Fritz, National PTA

Conflict is a word usually placed in a negative context because it is associated with struggle, discomfort and dysfunction. Learn about ways to use conflict as a learning tool, idea forum and a self awareness mechanism.

Justin Raber

Justin Raber currently serves as a member on the National PTA Board of Directors. His past service to PTA includes service as the West Virginia PTA President, President-Elect, membership chair and youth member.

Raber is a practicing attorney in Parkersburg, West Virginia, at Carr & Raber Law Offices, having earned his Doctor of Jurisprudence from West Virginia University College of Law. He also serves as an adjunct professor of political science at West Virginia University at Parkersburg.

In his legal profession, Raber advocates for children on a daily basis in child abuse and neglect proceedings and in family court proceedings. He also leads the nonprofit and education law divisions of his firm.

In addition to PTA, Raber serves on the Board of Directors for Artsbridge, an arts education nonprofit and Wood County Society, a nonprofit serving children and adults with disabilities.

Raber was honored as the 2013 National PTA Shirley Igo Advocate of the Year and has received numerous other awards, including the 2015 Wood County Society Celebration for Kids award, a National PTA Life Achievement Award and a West Virginia PTA Honorary Life Membership.

Deb Fritz

Deb has been a National Service Representative for National PTA for almost twelve years and has served over twenty-two states in that capacity. She currently serves Wisconsin and nine other states to which she provides assistance, guidance and training.

Deb coaches state leaders as they make important decisions, speak to key decision makers and run a nonprofit business.

Deb was a volunteer in PTA for seventeen years prior to her employment and therefore understands the passion and dedication of members and leaders from the local to the state level.

She works from her home office when she is not traveling to the states she serves and remains accessible to the entire state board for any concerns or questions that arise.

Courtney Pelot, Miss Wisconsin 2016

A native of Manitowoc, WI, Courtney won the title of Miss Wisconsin 2016 as Miss Green Bay Area 2016. She is a 2012 graduate of Lincoln High School and a 2016 graduate of the University of Wisconsin-Madison where she received a Bachelor's of Arts in Communication Arts. She plans to also pursue a Master's Degree.

During her year as Miss Wisconsin, Courtney will travel thousands of miles across the state promoting her platform, "Open Books, Open Opportunity: Promoting Literacy in Our Communities." Her platform has three key pillars: generating a love of reading and teaching its value, providing access to books and resources, and promoting and supporting literacy programs for all ages.

Vince Vitrano, TODAY'S TMJ4

Vince Vitrano is an Emmy award winning reporter and anchor with TODAY'S TMJ4, NBC's affiliated station in Milwaukee.

Vince joined TODAY'S TMJ4 in 2000 as a general assignment reporter, and is now the anchor of Live at Daybreak and Live at Noon, and is frequently featured on Newsradio 620 WTMJ.

Vince has covered many big stories, including a 1-on-1 interview with Vice President Gore; coverage trips to Washington, DC.; Final Four; the Rose Bowl and the Packers win in Super Bowl VL. He's led the way in social media for the Milwaukee market, pioneering the use of Twitter and Facebook as journalistic tools.

Vince's work as a reporter and anchor have earned him honors from the WI Broadcasters Association, AP and the Milwaukee Press Club, as well as a 2015 Chicago Midwest Regional Emmy.

Vince serves on the Board for Special Olympics, WI, works with other charities including the MACC Fund, Down Syndrome Assn. of WI, Make-a-Wish Foundation, United Way of Greater Milwaukee and his high school.

Vince was born in Milwaukee and grew up in Wauwatosa, graduating from Tosa East High School. He has a degree in Communication from St. Norbert College in De Pere, Wisconsin. Vince's wife, Nicole is originally from Cedarburg. The two are proud parents of Ella Max and Olivia.

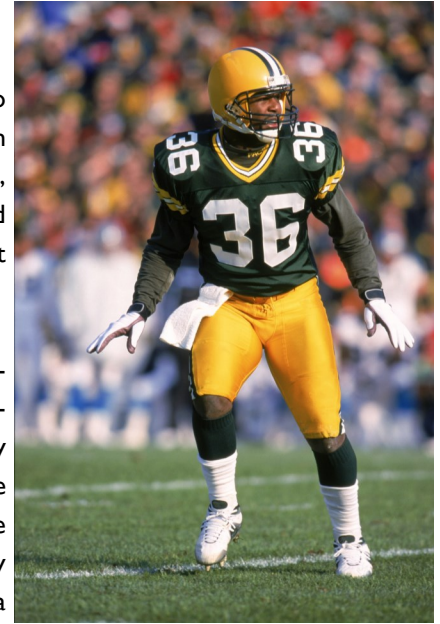

Many successful people around the State of Wisconsin got their start in Wisconsin's Public Schools!

LeRoy Butler

LeRoy Butler is a former NFL strong safety who played his entire career as a member of the Green Bay Packers. He spent his childhood in Jacksonville, Florida, challenged by physical problems that forced him to wear leg braces and use a wheelchair at times while undergoing therapy.

Butler attended Robert E. Lee High School in Jacksonville, Florida, with fellow Packers alum and current Packer assistant coach Edgar Bennett. LeRoy was an outstanding player for the Robert E. Lee High School Generals football program before heading to Florida State University. At FSU, LeRoy played under head coach Bobby Bowden. He was a three-year starter, collecting 194 tackles and 9 interceptions, but he's most remembered by FSU fans for his role in the famous "puntrooskie".

LeRoy was selected by the Packers in the second round of the 1990 NFL draft. He played in 181 games, earned a Super Bowl ring for Super Bowl XXXI following the 1996 season, was selected as an All-Pro five times and was selected to the Pro Bowl four times. He was named to the 1990s NFL All Decade Team by the Pro Football Hall of Fame, and was later inducted into the Green Bay Packers Hall of Fame in 2007. During his 12 seasons with the Packers he recorded 953 tackles, 38 interceptions, 553 return yards, 12 fumble recoveries, 3 defensive touchdowns and 20½ sacks. He led or tied for the team lead in interceptions in five different seasons. He was the first defensive back in NFL history to gain entrance in the 20 Sack/20 Interception Club. In 1993, LeRoy invented the Lambeau Leap - a touchdown celebration in which Packer players leap into the arms of awaiting fans.

Resolution 2017-1 Decoding Dyslexia

Why Resolutions?

Resolutions are important because they allow Wisconsin PTA to speak and advocate on specific issues that affect children and youth statewide. Once a resolution is passed, we can speak on its behalf with the power of thousands of voices. The following resolution will be considered for adoption at the 2017 Annual Wisconsin PTA Convention. Please look it over and share the information with your membership so your voting delegates can represent the ideas and concerns of your membership.

2017-1 Decoding Dyslexia

*“Good resolutions are like babies
crying in church.
They should be carried out immediately.”*

Charles M. Sheldon

- WHEREAS Dyslexia impacts up to 20% of the population; or approximately 1 in 5 people have a language based learning disability; AND
- WHEREAS Over 1 million students in Wisconsin K-12 public schools display signs or symptoms of dyslexia; many are not “identified”. 80% of children with a “specific learning disability” have dyslexia, the most common learning disability; AND
- WHEREAS Dyslexia affects individuals from all walks of life including those with average and above average intelligence; AND
- WHEREAS Early identification with appropriate reading instruction is important in assisting people with dyslexia be prepared to succeed in school and life. Children who have a slow start in reading rarely catch up on their own, a poor reader in 1st grade will remain a poor reader... 74% of students identified in 3rd grade as reading disabled will remain a poor reader in the 10th grade; AND
- WHEREAS Therapists, tutors and teachers specially trained in multisensory structured language approaches provide effective instruction. People with dyslexia require explicit teaching that is systematic and involves several senses (seeing, hearing, moving and touching) at the same time; AND
- WHEREAS Children with dyslexia, especially those who aren’t identified, can experience poor self-image, anxiety and difficulty with depression. Effects include not being ready to enter college or career, not earning a high school diploma; AND
- WHEREAS Individuals with dyslexia are overrepresented in prison populations, approximately 80% of the current people in prison are functionally illiterate. THEREFORE BE IT
- RESOLVED That the Wisconsin Congress of Parents and Teachers (WCPT) acknowledges that dyslexia has significant educational implications that need to be more widely addressed by the public and school districts; AND BE IT FURTHER

- RESOLVED That the WCPT accepts the following definition of dyslexia which was previously adopted by the Board of Directors of the International Dyslexia Association and the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD): “Dyslexia is a specific learning disability that is neurobiological in origin. It is characterized by difficulties with accurate and/or fluent word recognition and by poor spelling and decoding abilities. These difficulties typically result from a deficit in the phonological component of language that is often unexpected in relation to other cognitive abilities and the provision of effective classroom instruction. Secondary consequences may include problems in reading comprehension and reduced reading experience that can impede growth of vocabulary and background knowledge;” AND BE IT FURTHER
- RESOLVED That the WCPT supports teacher/staff training necessary to improve the understanding of dyslexia and its warning signs, to include training in appropriate evidence based structured literacy instruction for students with dyslexia and to promote knowledge of appropriate accommodations for dyslexic students; AND BE IT FURTHER
- RESOLVED That the WCPT supports early screening for signs and symptoms of dyslexia in early childhood through the third grade with parental notifications; the use of evidence based structured literacy instruction delivered with fidelity as defined by the International Dyslexia Association; and the use of appropriate accommodations in order to provide students with dyslexia equitable access to the general education curriculum; AND BE IT FURTHER
- RESOLVED That the WCPT forwards this resolution to the National PTA for consideration by the delegates at the earliest possible National PTA Convention.

Emergency Resolutions

The deadline for submitting resolutions has passed, but if your PTA has an issue or concern that arises between now and the convention, you can submit an emergency resolution. It must follow the same criteria as a regular resolution but must be submitted to the Resolution Committee at the convention. The emergency resolution and a petition signed at the convention by 25 voting convention delegates from at least three (3) WI PTA regions must be submitted to the WI PTA Resolutions committee at the convention. It is the submitting unit’s responsibility to furnish 100 copies of the Emergency Resolution for distribution to the delegates.

Purchase a Star for the WI PTA Wall of Fame

Classroom teachers, para-professionals, speech/occupational therapists, other classroom specialists and teachers as well as administrators work together to support our children. Honor these professionals during the Wisconsin PTA convention this April and during Teacher Appreciation Week by purchasing a star on the WI PTA Wall of Fame. The money raised supports the Brookmire-Hastings Scholarship Fund - a scholarship supporting the next generation of educators.

The educator you name will:

Have a Star with their name on the Wall of Fame throughout the convention

During Teacher Appreciation Week (the 2nd week of May) your teacher will be mailed a special acknowledgement of honor and be notified that the money raised will help support scholarships for high school seniors going into the field of education.

One award will be mailed to the school letting them know the teacher(s) were honored with a donation to the Brookmire-Hastings Scholarship Fund. (You must supply the address if you want the teacher to receive the mailing.)

The teacher with the most stars will also receive special recognition at the convention.

Individual Stars; 1 star for $5.00

2 stars for $7.50

5 stars for $15.00
